THE WHITE HOUSE

WASHINGTON

TO THE GRADUATING CLASS
UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND, 1967

It is a pleasure for me to extend my best wishes as you complete your college education.

You are graduating into a society in which you will be warmly welcomed. Our country has never had so great a need for highly educated men and women. Never have young Americans moved from the college campus into a world offering so broad a range of opportunities for individual fulfillment and contribution to the welfare of humanity.

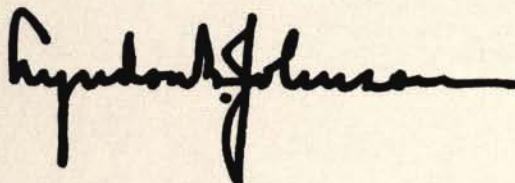

Your generation of students has been distinguished by its fresh and vigorous concern for the quality of American life and its commitment to American democracy. Perhaps the greatest opportunity awaiting you is the challenge to make this a life-long commitment.

Today, Americans from every walk of life are striving together to shape a society that can offer a meaningful and rewarding life to all its members. Never have so many of our countrymen been so deeply dedicated to eradicating the old evils of ignorance, poverty, and bigotry from every corner of the land.

Through your years of study, you have prepared yourselves for positions of leadership in this quest for a better America.

I congratulate you, and urge you to take full advantage of that opportunity.

Sincerely,

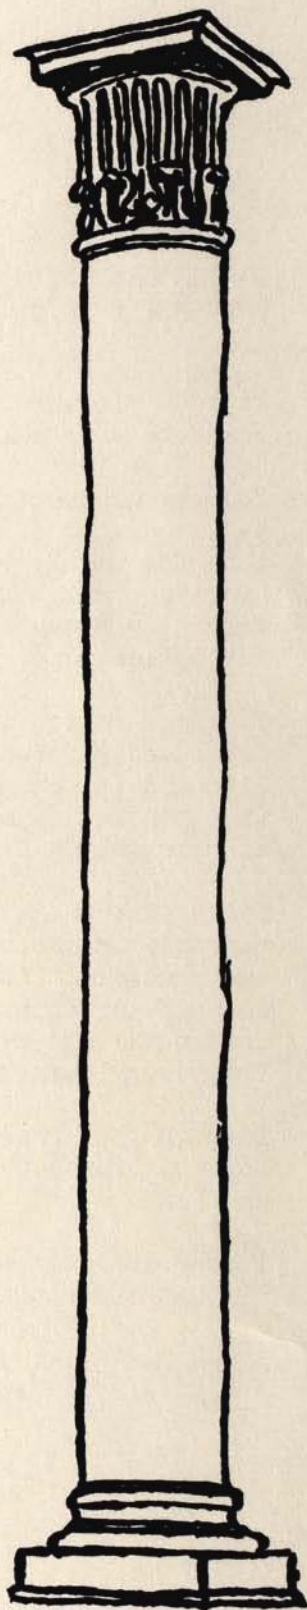

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "Lyndon B. Johnson". The signature is fluid and cursive, with a long horizontal stroke extending to the right at the end.

THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

*O say can you see,
—by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night
—that our flag was still there.
O say does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free
and the home of the brave?*

MARYLAND ALMA MATER

*Hail! Alma Mater!
Hail to thee, Maryland!
Steadfast in loyalty
For thee we stand.
Love for the Black and Gold,
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing, thy praise forever,
Throughout the land.*

HONORARY DEGREES

SPIRO THEODORE AGNEW

Doctor of Laws

Spiro Theodore Agnew was inaugurated as Maryland's 55th elected governor on January 25, 1967. A lawyer by profession, he served as County Executive of Baltimore County for four years immediately prior to his election as governor.

Born in Baltimore City and educated in its public schools, Governor Agnew studied chemistry for three years at The Johns Hopkins University before transferring to the University of Baltimore to study law. He passed the Maryland bar examination six months before graduating with a Bachelor of Laws degree in 1947, despite interrupting his education to serve with the Army in World War II as a company commander in the European Theater. He also spent a year on active duty during the Korean War.

Governor Agnew's meteoric rise in state government began with his interest in civic and public affairs in suburban Baltimore County, where he served as president of the Loch Raven Community Council and worked actively in early efforts for "open spaces" legislation and charter "home rule" government. In the late 1950's, he became chairman of the County Board of Appeals, leaving this position to win election as County Executive.

Highlights of his administration as County head include passage of a public accommodations law — one of the first in the nation — and legislation to require park and recreational "open spaces" in all new subdivisions. Under Governor Agnew's leadership, the County built new schools, opened public kindergartens, improved teacher salaries and classroom ratios, reorganized the police bureau, pioneered in community college curricula to fill employment gaps in the fields of police work and social services, and added hundreds of miles of new water supply and sanitary sewage lines.

At 48, Governor Agnew is one of youngest governors to lead the State of Maryland and is the first American of Greek descent to become chief executive of a State.

HAROLD R. W. BENJAMIN

Doctor of Humane Letters

Dr. Harold R. W. Benjamin, a renowned educator, was dean of the College of Education at the University of Maryland from 1939-51. He holds honorary degrees from Drake University, Pacific University and Rhode Island College and is a recipient of the Medal for Distinguished Service to Education from Newark (New Jersey) State College. He also is the author of a score of books.

After receiving his early education in Wisconsin, Montana and Oregon, Dr. Benjamin graduated with highest honors in education from the University of Oregon. He received his Ph.D. degree from Stanford University in 1927.

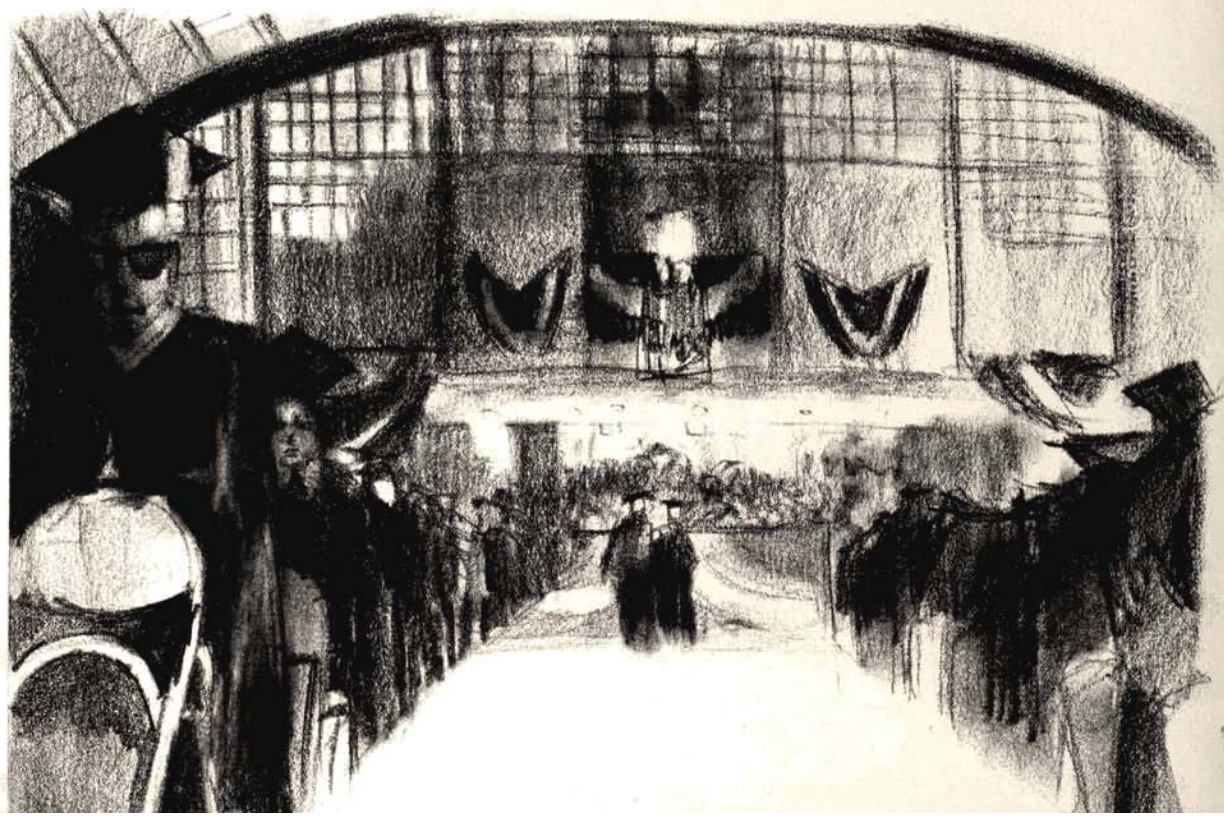

Dr. Benjamin served as teacher and administrator for ten years in the schools of Minnesota and Oregon, as associate professor of education and psychology at Stanford University, professor of education and director of the Center for Continuation Study at the University of Minnesota, and as dean of the College of Education and Summer Quarter and chairman of the department of psychology at the University of Colorado, before coming to the University of Maryland. Later, he became chairman of the division of social foundations of education and, since 1958, has been professor emeritus of education at the George Peabody College for Teachers.

James Barrett Reston, associate editor of the New York Times Washington Bureau, has been accorded national and international recognition for his reportorial ability.

Twice he has been awarded the Pulitzer Prize: in 1945 for National Correspondent and in 1957 for National reporting. On three occasions he has earned the Overseas Press Club award for interpretation of international news. Mr. Reston has also received the George Polk Memorial Award for National Reporting, the University of Missouri Medal in 1961, and the J. P. Zenger Award in 1964.

Born in Clydebank, Scotland, Mr. Reston came to the United States in 1910. Beginning his career on the Springfield (Ohio) Daily News, he moved to the publicity department of The Ohio State University and in 1934 became publicity director of the Cincinnati Baseball Club. Following this, Mr. Reston served as reporter for the Associated Press in New York City and London before joining the Times in 1939.

Mr. Reston holds B.S. and LL.D. degrees from the University of Illinois; Litt. D. degrees from Colgate University, Oberlin College and Rutgers University; LL.D. degrees from New York University, Dartmouth College, Boston College and Brandeis University; and D.M.L. degrees from Kenyon College, Columbia University and the University of Michigan.
