The Francis D. Murnaghan, Jr.
Appellate Advocacy Fellowship

Judge Francis D. Murnaghan, Jr., a champion of civil rights and civil liberties, served on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit from 1979 to 2000 after a distinguished career in private law practice in Baltimore. Founded in 2000 by Judge Murnaghan's colleagues, former law clerks, and friends, the Murnaghan Appellate Advocacy Fellowship is a one-year fellowship awarded annually and open to former judicial law clerks. The Fellow works at the Public Justice Center in Baltimore on appellate litigation involving issues of significance in civil rights and poverty law.
