Method of Instruction.

Instruction will be given by lectures, reading and catechising. The lectures are intended to present all of the leading principles of the common law applicable to the subject, and the modification of the common law by statutes, and to give illustrations of the applications of the common and statute law. Special attention is given to the statutes in force in Maryland, and to peculiarities of law in that State, where there are such; but the reasons for these statutory modifications and local peculiarities are explained, so that the student may in a short time acquaint himself with the local peculiarities of the law in any State in which he may practice.

Readings from text-books will be assigned on the subjects treated of in the Lectures.

The Catechising at each lecture will be on the subjects discussed in the preceding lecture and on the assigned readings.

Library and Buildings.

The buildings of the several departments of the University of Maryland are all situated upon the corner of Lombard and Greene Sts., the Law School having removed to its new building there on the first of January, 1884. Connected with the lecture hall is a large and pleasant reading-room and study for the use of students, containing a carefully selected library of text-books upon the subjects embraced in the course of study, volumes of Leading Cases, the English Common Law, United States and Maryland Reports, Digests, Statutes, etc., as well as many of the modern and best works on American and English History and Politics. The tables are supplied with the prominent Law Reviews, and the library is annually growing in size and value by the addition of new volumes.

Classes and Duration of Course.

The students attending the School are divided into three classes—a Senior Class, an Intermediate Class, and a Junior Class. The subjects of study in each class are:

JUNIOR CLASS.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Common Law (Elementary Law), Personal Property, and Domestic Relations.

Second Term (Feb. to June): Real Property, and the Law of Contracts.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Criminal Law, Executors and Administrators, Pleading, and Torts.

Second Term (Feb. to June): Real Property (Title), Commercial Law, Bills and Notes, Corporations, and Pleading, continued.

SENIOR CLASS.

First Term (Oct. to Feb.): Practice, Evidence, International Law and Admiralty.

Second Term (Feb. to June): Equity Jurisprudence and Procedure, Constitutional and Statute Law.

The lectures are all after 4 P. M. A schedule of their arrangement will be furnished at the beginning of the session.

It will be seen that the full course of study extends over three years, and the Faculty are satisfied that students who have not made considerable progress in the study of law do themselves and the Law School an injury by attempting to graduate in a shorter period. Where students can afford it, they should spend three years in the study of law. But in order to meet the case of those who cannot afford this, students are permitted to enter and take the examinations of more than one class during the same term, their fitness to complete the course in less than three years being determined by their ability to pass the regular examinations at the close of each term, and to comply with the other requirements for graduation.

Examinations, Theses and Degrees.

The Law School confers the degree of Bachelor of Laws on students who have attended the course of lectures to all three classes, have attained the required standard at the examinations, have submitted to the Faculty satisfactory theses, and argued the required number of cases in the Moot Court.

There are six examinations each session—two of the Senior Class, two of the Intermediate Class, and two of the Junior Class. Each class has an examination at the close of each term. The examinations are by printed questions, to be answered in writing. Each examination is valued at 100. In order to graduate, the student must attain a grade of at least three-fourths on the questions propounded by each professor at each examination.

The subjects for the theses for the next session will be given to the students in November, 1891, and they will be expected to hand them in to the Faculty by April 1, 1892. The attention of the students is called to the fact that the Faculty will require a high standard of excellence in the theses.

The Faculty reserve to themselves the right to refuse a degree to any student writing an unsatisfactory thesis or neglecting the preparation and argument of the Moot Court cases, whatever grade he may have attained at the examinations.

Moot Court.

The Moot Court will meet once a week during the session, and will be presided over by one of the professors.

At the beginning of each term, the assignments in the Moot Court for that term will be announced and posted on the bulletin-board in the reading-room, and statements of the cases to be argued will be furnished by the Secretary of the Faculty to the students who are to take part in the argument.

Prizes.

The Faculty will, at the close of the session 1891-92, award two prizes—

1. A prize of $100 to the student attaining the highest grade in the six examinations.

At the close of the session 1890-91 this prize was awarded to Charles F. Fawsett, of Baltimore, Md., but on account of the very slight difference between his grade and that of Robert M. McLane, Jr., of Baltimore, Md., the Faculty also awarded a special prize of $100 to the latter.

2. A prize of $100 to the student who submits the best thesis.

At the close of the session 1890-91 this prize was awarded to Richard D. Lang, of Baltimore, Md., by a committee consisting of Messrs. John V. L. Findlay, Fielder C. Slingluff and W. George Weld, of the Baltimore Bar.

Calendar for Session 1891-92.

SESSION AND TERMS.

The next session will commence on the first Monday of October (Oct. 5), 1891, and will close on May 31, 1892. There will be a short vacation from December 23, 1891, to January 4, 1892, inclusive.

The session is divided into two terms. The first term extends from the beginning of the Session to January 31, 1892, and the second term from February 1, 1892, to May 31, 1892.

COMMENCEMENT.

The Commencement will be held May 27, 1892, at 8 P. M.

Opportunities for Attending other Lectures.

All the courses upon History and Politics at the Johns Hopkins University are open to law students upon the payment of very moderate fees, and are given at hours which do not interfere with the attendance upon the lectures at the Law School.

Privileges, Courts, etc.

Any student entered in one or two classes has the privilege, if he sees fit, to be present at the lectures in the other class or classes; and any graduate of the School has the privilege of attending all the lectures for the session next ensuing his graduation.

There are seven Courts in almost continuous session in Baltimore during the entire scholastic year; and students have unusual opportunities to learn the law by attendance on the Courts. Students are advised to attend the Courts when they can conveniently do so, and to give careful attention and thought to the proceedings.

There is a Literary Society attached to the School, known as the Maryland University Debating Society, which is organized and conducted entirely by the students. Its discussions during the past session have been unusually interesting and instructive.

It has been the practice heretofore for students to form Quiz Clubs, composed of from five to ten members. They can, if properly conducted, be made very improving, and students are advised to form them.

Admission to the Bar.

Graduates of the Law Department of the University of Maryland are admitted to practice in Maryland Courts on presentation of their diplomas and without examination.

Commencement.

The Annual Commencement for the session 1890-91 took place in the Lyceum Theatre, at 8 P. M., May 29, 1891. Dr. Herbert B. Adams, of the Johns Hopkins University, delivered the annual address. In the absence of the Provost of the University, the Hon. Charles E. Phelps addressed the graduates in conferring the degrees, and awarded the prizes.

The fees for each term are payable strictly in advance at the commencement of each term.
