THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER

*O say can you see,
—by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd
at the twilight's last gleaming?
Whose broad stripes and bright stars,
thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched,
were so gallantly streaming?
And the rockets' red glare,
the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night
—that our flag was still there.
O say does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?*

MARYLAND ALMA MATER

*Hail! Alma Mater!
Hail to thee, Maryland!
Steadfast in loyalty
For thee we stand,
Love for the Black and Gold,
Deep in our hearts we hold,
Singing, thy praise forever,
Throughout the land.*

HONORARY DEGREES

EMORY HAMILTON NILES

Doctor of Laws

Judge Emory H. Niles served as Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City from 1954 to 1962. He began his service with that body as Associate Judge in 1938. Judge Niles was born in Baltimore in 1892. Johns Hopkins University conferred on him the Bachelor of Arts degree in 1913. He studied as a Rhodes Scholar from 1913 to 1916 at Oxford University, receiving from that school the degrees Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts and Bachelor of Civil Law. He received the Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of Maryland in 1917. He was a lecturer at the University from 1925 to 1956 in the laws of admiralty and evidence. He also lectures on medical jurisprudence at the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions.

Judge Niles served with the U. S. Army, 1917-1919. He served as Ration Administrator and Chairman of the War Price and Rationing Boards of Baltimore City, during World War Two. Judge Niles is a member of the American Bar Association, the Baltimore City Bar Association, and the Maryland Bar Association and has served in executive positions in these bodies. He is now President of the Institute of Judicial Administration of New York, and is an Honorary Fellow of Hertford College, Oxford.

He is the founder and Editor of American Maritime Cases.

STUART THOMAS SAUNDERS

Doctor of Laws

Stuart Thomas Saunders is Chairman of the Board of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. Born in McDowell, West Virginia in 1909, Mr. Saunders received the Bachelor of Arts degree from Roanoke College in 1930 and the degree Bachelor of Laws from the Harvard Law School in 1934. Mr. Saunders practiced law in Washington, D. C. and then began service with the Norfolk and Western Railway. In 1958 he became President of the Company. Last year, Mr. Saunders assumed the responsibilities of the chairmanship of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

Mr. Saunders serves as Director of a number of banks and other companies. He is a member of the President's Advisory Committee on Labor-Management Policy; the President's Business Committee for the National Cultural Center; and the Virginia Museum of Fine Arts; and serves as Trustee for Roanoke College, Hollins College, the Virginia Foundation for Independent Colleges, the John Fitzgerald Kennedy Library Corporation, and the Foundation for Independent Colleges, Inc., of Pennsylvania. He is the recipient of the Salzberg Medal for Distinguished Contributions to Transportation, and the Hampton Roads Maritime Association Award for Distinguished Service.

STANTON WALKER

Doctor of Engineering

Stanton Walker is Director of Engineering Emeritus of the National Sand and Gravel Association and the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association. He contributed significantly to the development of concrete technology to its present advanced state. Mr. Walker was responsible for the establishment in 1938 of the Joint Research Laboratory at the University of Maryland, beginning a relationship between the University and the two associations unique in engineering. He was also responsible for the establishment of the Research Fellowship Foundation which supports study and research leading to the master's or doctor's degrees in engineering. Mr. Walker also established at the University the Annual Short Course on Concrete and Concrete Aggregates. In 1962, the National Sand and Gravel Association established in his honor an endowed series of lectures.

Mr. Walker was born in Vevay, Indiana. He received the Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Illinois in 1917. He has served as a member of the Executive Committee of the American Society for Testing Materials, President of the American Concrete Institute, and as a member and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Highway Research Board.

Dr. René Wellek is Sterling Professor of Comparative Literature and Chairman of the Department at Yale University. He is currently President of both the International and the American Association of Comparative Literature. Dr. Wellek was author of the lead paper, "Philosophy and Postwar American Criticism", appearing in the first issue of Comparative Literature Studies, a scholarly journal published by the University of Maryland. His principal books are Kant in England, 1931; The Rise of English Literary History, 1941; Theory of Literature (with Austin Warren), 1949; A History of Modern Criticism, first and second volumes, 1955; Concepts of Criticism, 1963; and Essays on Czech Literature, 1963.

Dr. Wellek was born in Vienna in 1903 and was a Czechoslovak citizen until his naturalization as an American citizen in 1946. He received his degree Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Prague in 1926. He has taught at Princeton University and the University of Iowa in this country, and in Czechoslovakia and Great Britain. He has been in residence at Yale since 1946. In 1959 Dr. Wellek received the Prize for Distinguished Service to Humanistic Scholarship of the American Council of Learned Societies.

Andrew Wyeth is a distinguished artist who paints in tempera the land and people of his country. He was born in Chadds Ford, Pennsylvania in 1917 and still resides there. Mr. Wyeth's temperas hang in most of the major American museums: the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Modern Museum of Art, the Milwaukee Art Center, the Wilmington Society of Fine Arts, the Addison Gallery of American Art, the Toledo Museum of Art, the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, the William A. Farnsworth Library and Art Museum, the Shelburne Museum, the New Britain Museum of American Art, the Wadsworth Atheneum and the Currier Gallery of Art.

Mr. Wyeth was educated by private tutors and by his father, artist Newell Converse Wyeth. In 1963, President Kennedy selected Mr. Wyeth as one of the first recipients of the Medal of Freedom—the highest American civilian honor. In December of last year, President Johnson presented it to him with a citation declaring that "he has in the great humanist tradition illuminated and clarified the verities" of life.
